Pivot to a Leadership Position in Industry or Academia with the Ajman University DBA

Ajman University's Doctor of Business Administration represents an exciting opportunity to advance your career in management or consulting, or transition to teaching in an academic setting. The program prepares students for leadership positions in private, non-profit, education, and government sectors.

Ajman University DBA graduates become thought-leaders in management practice and creators of knowledge through applied research. With the aid of world-class faculty, DBA students learn to integrate management theory with practice and advance evidence-based management.

Key Reasons to Choose Ajman University's DBA Program

- Global Partnerships: Ajman University has partnerships with prominent universities in the UK, USA, and Germany.
- Industry-relevant: The program is designed to reflect the latest industry trends and requirements, ensuring that the course content is always relevant.
- Dual Track: The DBA program offers two tracks – the management track, and the educational track for those looking to transition to academia.
- Expert Insights: The program regularly features guest speakers from globally recognized institutions, providing students with insights from leading experts.
- Flexible Schedule: The AU DBA program offers flexible weekend classes, ensuring students can balance their studies with their professional commitments.

Career opportunities

The DBA program equips you with the expertise and confidence necessary to become future leaders in changeable and challenging business fields locally and globally. The program helps to combine deep knowledge with practical skills to develop managerial and leadership abilities effectively. Some of the roles AU DBA graduates can target are Manager/Leader at all managerial levels, CEO, and University Lecturer.

Being a graduate from 1 of only 5 doctorate programs in the UAE to earn the AACSB accreditation is a unique recognition that differentiates our graduates in the job market. Combined with our stellar employer reputation (#1 in the UAE as per QS World University Rankings 2025), this makes AU DBA graduates highly sought-after professionals in the industry.
